Fixed Assessment For Factories Discussed

COUNCIL WILL MEET WITH HEADS OF INDUSTRIES

The prevailing Newmarket practice of treating the fixed assessment of industries as the full assessment also was questioned in a letter from the department of municipal affairs before the town council on Monday evening.

The letter, addressed to N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk, treasurer and solicitor, and signed by M. I. Jones, supervisor, department of municipal affairs, was as follows: "It has been brought to my attention that the town of Newmarket has granted fixed assessments to local industries and upon reference to your clerk's return you report that the by-law with respect to the Davis Leather Co. fixes the assessment in the amount of $39,000 and that this by-law runs from 1934 to 1944. The by-law for the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co. Ltd. in the amount of $50,000 runs from 1937 to 1947.

"According to your return, it would seem that these fixed assessments are used as the basis of levying the taxes for all purposes and that these industries are not paying on their actual assessment for schools and direct relief.

"In this connection I would refer you to the provisions of clause (a) subsection 1 of section 405 which states that the fixed assessment shall not apply to or affect taxation of school purposes or local improvements.

"I would appreciate if you would advise whether my contention is right, and if so your recommendations as to how this matter may be adjusted."

Mr. Mathews' reply, as follows, was read to the council: "I have your letter of the 1st instant herein. I believe that the statements contained in your letter are quite correct. Although you asked for my recommendations in the matter I do not believe that this is a matter over which I have any control, as it is part of the duties of the assessor to assess in accordance with the act. It so happens in Newmarket that the assessor assesses the actual value of these industries at the amount of the fixed assessment and as I have of course no control over the assessor I do not see what I can do about it.

"Trusting that you will see my position in the matter."

"That brings up a difficult question," commented Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"It's a matter of policy," said Reeve F. A. Lundy.

"I think in future we should stick to the act," said Dr. Dales. "We should probably have a meeting of the finance committee with the industries, and perhaps we can arrange something that will mean additional revenue to (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

EXPRESS THANKS TO LIONS AND VETERANS

Newmarket boys are ever appreciative of letters and comforts sent overseas to them. The following are recent letters received by the Lions and Veterans:

England, Mar. 10, 1942
Dear Mr. Gilroy:
Again the Lions have come through with another 300 cigarettes. This lot was even more appreciated because I am going on seven days leave tomorrow, and my supply was running short.

I wish you were here for this lovely spring weather we are having now, however, I wouldn't mind getting home for a couple of square meals.

Thanking you again, Vets and Lions, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
Sid Fierheller.

Ludshott, Hants,
March 13, 1940.

Newmarket Lions Club,
Newmarket, Ontario.
Gentlemen:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your package of cigarettes, and to thank you very much. Needless to say parcels from home are indeed welcome, as most of you know from experience. I have been receiving letters and papers regularly from home and keep track of some of the other boys from town.

We are being kept busy with our spring training, and are getting into condition for any eventually, in case "Jerry" tries coming over this spring.

The spring weather has finally arrived, and it gives England an altogether different appearance. It is a pleasant change from the damp, gray winter that greeted us in December. I have been able to ward off colds and am just beginning to get warm again.

Well, I must close for now, but thanks again for the cigarettes.

Yours truly,
Fred Cunningham.

Hello Alec:
Here I am, you may guess where but I am over my sea-sick spell now, and just fine, ready for every meal that comes along, and then some. We have been very lucky as far as rough weather goes.

Had a very nice trip, lots of bingo, sing-songs and pictures. There was one evening when we had the piano tied with a big rope to one of the pillows to keep it from sliding all over the dining-hall. The sing-song went on just the same.

We have a fine lot of officers N.C.O.'s and men in this unit. I will write to Alf. Smith as soon as we get settled. There is not much one can say at present, so give my kindest regards to all the old Vets. Will write again soon. Cheerio.

Yours truly,
Alf.

YOUTH, 19, FATALLY INJURED IN CRASH AT QUEENSVILLE

Eric Pickereil, Toronto, Dies in York County Hospital

One person was killed and another seriously injured as the result of an automobile accident, a mile north of Queensville, early Sunday morning.

Eric Pickereil, aged 19, Mount Pleasant road, Toronto, died four hours after his removal to York County Hospital. His brother, Harvey, aged 17, of Queensville, sustained a broken shoulder.

According to police, the accident happened on the York County highway, when the Pickereil car was being overtaken by another car reportedly driven by Murray Johnson, aged 18, of Queensville. Johnson escaped with slight abrasions.

Constable Joseph Jardine, of East Gwillimbury Township, reported that the Johnson and Pickereil cars sideswiped, then the latter veered into a high bank of ground on the east side of the road.

Following the collision, the Pickereil car rolled over three times, while the Johnson car careened down the highway, coming to rest in an upside down position.

"Both cars were practically demolished," Constable Jardine reported. "It's a miracle that Johnson wasn't seriously injured."

Pickereil had lived in Toronto and spent weekends with his family at Queensville. He was returning to his parents' home, with his brother Harvey, when the accident occurred.

An inquest has not yet been ordered by Coroner Dr. J. H. Wesley. Constable William Hill, of Sutton, assisted Constable Jardine in the investigation.

NATIVE SON J. C. HAIGHT DIES IN WATERLOO

WAS VICE-PRES. OF EQUITABLE LIFE INS. CO.

A barrister in Waterloo for 45 years, James C. Haight, 29 Young Street West, died at the K-W Hospital Wednesday night. He was 80 years of age.

Mr. Haight was a prominent figure in the community. He was vice-president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company and had served as municipal clerk and treasurer for 11 years. He was appointed clerk June 4, 1912 and resigned June 4, 1923.

Mr. Haight was solicitor of the Equitable Life Insurance Company from the time of its organization in 1920 and became a director in 1931. He was a member of the company's executive investment committees.

He also served as solicitor of the Waterloo Mutual Fire Insurance Company for many years.

Mr. Haight was gold medalist upon his graduation from law school.

He served as a member of the Board of Stewards and also as trustee of First United Church.

Prominent in Liberal circles, he at one time was one of the leaders of the North Waterloo Liberal Association. It is believed he was financial agent for Prime Minister Mackenzie King when Mr. King was first elected to Parliament as representative of North Waterloo in 1908.

He also was associated with the Hydro movement at its inception. Mr. Haight consistently supported various charitable organizations and "did a lot of charitable work quietly," associates said.

In his earlier years he was an enthusiastic curler.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haight, he was born near Newmarket.

Surviving are one brother, Charles H. Haight of Toronto, one nephew, Frank Arnold of Cape Town, South Africa, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Katharine Haight, Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Minnie Haight, Waterloo, and by two nieces, Dr. Rachel Haight, Ottawa, and Mrs. Charles Brewster, Portland, Oregon.

Soldiers Given Suspended Sentence

TO WARN YOUNGSTERS WITH AIR RIFLES

A warning is to be issued to youngsters with air-rifles, the town council decided on Monday evening. N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor, told the council that Chief Constable James Sloss had reported that youngsters were shooting birds.

"And it is costing us something for street lights," Councilor A. D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, told the council.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL HAS HALLUCINATIONS

The three boys from the Newmarket Military Camp, Jack R. Garner, John Lowe and Herbert Gibson, who last week pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering the Newmarket Arena, appeared at Police Court this week for sentence. Magistrate W. E. McIlveen suspended sentence and placed them on probation for six months on payment of $4.50 costs each. On the charge of breaking and entering Adams' poolroom, Lowe and Gibson were given suspended sentence on payment of $6.75 costs each.

A charge of receiving stolen goods against E. L. Smith of the Newmarket Military Camp was dismissed.

Sgt. Rose testified that he searched the hut and found a bag containing chocolate bars, cigarettes and cigarette lighters behind Smith's bed.

Chief Sloss stated that he questioned accused in the presence of Constable Watt at the Guard Room of the military camp and he gave a statement telling that Gibson had asked him to keep the bag for him. He didn't know what was in it until later in the day, so took two packages of cigarettes and a chocolate bar and left for Aurora that evening. He didn't know the goods were stolen when the bag was handed to him, but became suspicious later.

"I don't think there is enough evidence to register a conviction," ruled His Worship. "It was a very foolish thing to do, but he told the officers all about it at the time. I am going to give him the benefit of the doubt."

Orval Vaughan of Holland Landing pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Robert Brockelbank and was fined $5 and $20.50 costs.

"On the 23rd of March I was in Jarvis' poolroom having a game of pool, and the accused was standing watching me," testified the complainant, who is 78 years of age. "He is always making fun of me, and he was skitting at me every move I made and everything (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

CUBS ENJOY EASTER HIKE

Last Friday morning more than thirty Wolf Cubs under their cubmaster J. Hamilton, home on weekend leave, left their Cub hall with full pack for their first spring hike.

The Rover Scouts did a splendid job of assisting in the games and cooking. Rover Scouts Bill Revill, Don McBride and Bob McIlroy left about an hour before the pack, and laid a trail through woods over fences and fields.

Dinner call was sounded promptly at noon, and how those Wolves did eat. Games were played and tests were passed. Those passing their fire-fighting tests were Wendell Gilbert, Harold Simmons, Jim Smart, Bart Pipher, Gerry Hugo, Don Wilkins, Jack McCannan and Ron Monkman.

On arriving back at the Cub hall a ball game was organized. Gerry Hugo's team won a very closely fought game from George Case's team. The score was 13-12.

The Rover Scouts that helped to make the hike such a success were Bill Revill, Clark Hill, Don McBride, Bob McIlroy, Jack Revill and John Hunter.

HAVE MANY INQUIRIES FROM LOCAL MEN

The local unit opened their recruiting depot on Main St., Newmarket, Saturday morning and results have been highly satisfactory. There is no doubt that the majority of our young men will be in uniform before many months are out, and it is extremely fortunate that they now have the opportunity of joining their own County Regiment where they will be with their pals.

Arrangements have been made to transport recruits to 61 Albert St. for medical examination, and from there they are taken to Fort York Armouries for documentation and equipping. From then on they are gentlemen in battle dress and prepared to do their duty for king and country. Local men are brought back to Aurora where they report each morning for training at York Armouries and are granted subsistence allowance until the Regiment receives orders to concentrate, which, it is understood, will only be a matter of days.

Recruiting centres are being opened at Aurora, Weston, New Toronto and other central points throughout the county, and it is expected the Newmarket depot will remain open for several days.

Greenshirts Capture Intermediate "A" Title

WINNING COUNTER COMES 3 SECONDS FROM REGULAR TIME

Years of futile search for the O.H.A. Intermediate crown ended in glorious victory on Monday night for the Sutton Greenshirts when they defeated Fingal Bombers 4-3 in a rousing tussle at Maple Leaf Gardens. Year after year the boys from the Lake Simcoe village were in there knocking at the door only to be bumped off in the finals or semi-finals. Monday night they left it until three seconds of regulation time to sink the championship million dollar goal.

With the clock registering ten seconds of regulation time Sutton secured a face-off in the Fingal zone. Joint McComb, Newmarket lad, got the draw and made a quick pass to Shepherson who was on the move. "Shep" rounded the defense, faked a shot and then had the clever Neath at his mercy. The glow of the red light had scarcely faded when the final gong sounded.

While it was a tough game for the Bombers to lose, there is no doubt that Ellis Pringle and company deserved the decision. Time after time in the second and third staves, Harris, Diplock and Culverwell were right through the defense, only to be out-guessed by Neath, or to shoot wide of the net.

The last two periods provided real excitement after a drab first twenty minutes, with the air force boys being inclined to mix things up.

Harris brought joy to the hearts of North Yorkers early in the second frame when he took a pass from wild Bill Roberts to wipe out a one-goal margin the Bombers had secured in the first twenty.

Joint McComb pushed the count up to three to give his club a decided margin.

NEW MERCHANDISING METHODS

The large mail order houses are sending out more catalogues than ever, a check at the post office reveals. One large firm sent into this city six times as many catalogues as they did last year, states the Granby Leader-Mail.

This is another indication that students of merchandising are convinced that we are on the verge of drastic changes in methods. It is confidently expected that there will be sharp curtailment in the number of people who drive to the larger cities to do their shopping, and it is to counteract this that the mail-order houses are sending out more catalogues.

Experts state that the local store-keeper is about to come into his own, and that if he is prepared for the increased business he will certainly get it. Local merchants are urged to enlarge their stocks and to tell their people about it by increased advertising. The large mail-order houses are fully aware of the changing conditions and hence their avalanche of catalogues.

While the government is passing endless regulations designed to cut the costs of business, it would be a good thing if these mail-order houses were not allowed to sell by mail various items that can be purchased just as well locally.

It would be a most logical step toward cutting costs and conserving shipping space to put some such regulations into force.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH?

Sunday visiting up at the farm is likely to be cut down this year, says Thomas Richard Henry in the Evening Telegram.

Sunday was always a bright and interesting day to the farmer's wife after she had a grown-up family.

The morning was taken up with church and chores, and there were always anything from two to 22 visitors from the city for Sunday afternoon. Most of them came from a distance and found it convenient to stay for dinner and supper, too. This wasn't any great inconvenience to the farmer's wife, because she could put the dinner on before going to church and while she was washing the dishes in the afternoon the city visitors employed themselves by filling their car with whatever was in season—apples, sweet corn—even wood from the pile that had been cut back in the bush and hauled up to the farm house.

Then usually, because it was some considerable distance back to the city, the visitors left before the supper dishes were done.

But now with gas and tires being conserved the Sunday afternoons on the farm will not be so full. Less often will there be that line-up of cars in the orchard. The women on the farm will not have so many meals to prepare or dishes to wash—and the funny part of it is they will probably long for the old days back again, when the folks can come and see them of a Sunday afternoon.

PUTTING THINGS IN TINS

Announcement that the need for conserving our stores of tin will shortly show its effects in the shelves of Canadian groceries reminds us how much we have come to depend upon preserved foods.

Two or three decades ago the good housewife had her "preserving" season when in an orgy of boiling and canning she "did down" quantities of fruits, to a lesser degree vegetables. That is still the custom in a great number of homes, but in countless others the tin opener has taken the place of the preserving kettle. The bride and her can-opener used to be a stock joke, but the bride had her answer—the quality and cheapness of the tinned goods the grocer offered her were not likely to be matched by anything she could produce in her amateurish way.

So it has come about in recent years that a very wide variety of food was sold in tins—not only fruit but fruit juice, vegetables, soup, fish, meats, jam, and scores of other delicacies for the Canadian table. Canned goods nowadays must account for a large part of the grocer's sales.

But now there is not enough tin for all its accustomed uses. Some foods ordinarily put up in cans, beans for instance, are to be denied that form of container, and there are restrictions on sizes and types. Glass containers will be used more freely, we are told, and sturdy paper packages may be developed. Of one thing we may be certain: the manufacturers will be turning all their ingenuity to the problem of this gigantic preserved-food industry which has become as important to agriculture as to the consuming public.

NOW THAT YOU HAVE A STEADY JOB

Thinking young men and women realize that a savings account today can mean security tomorrow. Someday too, you may want to buy a home of your own, or you may have boys and girls to educate. Planned saving is a responsibility you owe, not only to yourself but also to your country. Common sense will urge you to vote "yes" on the coming plebiscite. Let's have no dissenting voices from North York.

Good Friday we saw a group of teen-aged youngsters hitting off to the country with air rifles, and we thought that the matter should be checked up. We are pleased that Chief Sloss also had the same idea and has been giving it his attention.

Newsprint will shortly be rationed, we understand, along with numerous other commodities. A number of our subscribers could help out the newsprint situation from our angle by dropping in with the odd $2.

Sunday was an ideal day for the Easter parade, and while we didn't see any of the new style Victory suits on the men, some of the women came out with the annual startling costumes.

In this plebiscite there will be no candidates or parties spending money on advertising, and no campaign funds, and no rallies and meetings to work up interest and excitement, and no armies of canvassers, and no workers with automobiles to take people to the polls. If this doesn't suggest the danger of perhaps less than half of the people voting in this plebiscite, then a lot of election organization and bullabuloo must be pathetically superfluous, observes the Ottawa Journal.

New "wartime" suit for men: Coats—no double-breasted coats; length not to exceed 29½ inches or about one inch shorter than present average; no belted bl-swing; no pleated backs; no patch pockets; no buttons on sleeves; Vests—no double-breasted vests; no collars on single-breasted vests; no back straps; no inside breast pocket; no pencil pockets; Pants—no extra pair of trousers; no trouser pleats; no extension of waist-band; no watch pocket; no flaps on back; no back or side straps; no tunnel loops; no high English back; no trouser cuffs; no . . . say, are we going to have any suits at all?

Municipalities will be required to administer relief on a 50-50 basis with the Provincial government in future, according to an announcement by Hon. Farquhar Oliver, Minister of Welfare and Municipal Affairs. This plan has been adopted for one year by the Provincial government, and if it is shown to be a hardship on the municipalities will be revised. In these days when employment is easy to get it is only unemployables that are eligible for relief. Consequently there are few municipalities that will have any ground for kicking against the government plan.

ECHOES FROM THE SANCTUARY

(This column is dedicated to the task of bringing a little of the church to those who are shut-in. Its main content will be the pith or kernel of one or other of the sermons given on the previous Sunday).

By Rev. Arthur Greer

It is Easter Sunday morning. The Christian world rings with the announcement of a prophecy fulfilled, "Unto you that fear My name, shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings." Although this prophecy did not necessarily refer to the Master's resurrection, but to His coming to earth, and to His work as a whole, we realize none the less that if Jesus had not arisen, there would be no healing in His wings.

If a little boy, say of seven to ten years, were to ask me the meaning of Easter, I would like to answer him in the following manner:

On a night suitable, when the stars were giving their glimmer of light to a darkened earth, I would get the little fellow out of his bed about one hour before sunrise. Hand in hand we would walk through the lanes and fields to a hill-top where we might have an unrestricted view of the eastern sky.

On the hill-top, we would find a log or a flat stone, or perhaps just a tall fence to sit upon. Sitting there, I can imagine that my little companion would snuggle closer to me: that I would feel him shiver a little in the cold, damp air of early morning.

I would ask him what he thought of our early morning vigil, and he might answer something like this:—"It is so black in those bushes there, I'm a little bit afraid. And everything is so awfully quiet. And the air is cold. It isn't very nice here. Let's go home, shall we?"

But I would answer—"Just wait a little while, son. Look at the edge of the sky yonder. Do you see those orange coloured rays shining dimly? Yes? Well watch them closely."

We would sit there and watch as the rays turned to scarlet and golden and crystal. We would see the great ball of fire creep up over the edge of space. The dampness would arise from the earth, and the darkness would be dispelled. The disconcerting stillness would surge softly away, as the birds in the trees lifted their sweet voices in peacans of praise. What had been frightening black patches in the bushes would now be attractive shady nooks.

I would ask my little companion how he liked our vigil now. We can readily imagine his enthusiastic boyish answer. He would say, "Oh, I'm not a bit scared now! Everything is wonderful now that the sun is risen. Look at those flowers opening. Just listen to those birds. You'd think they would hurt their throats the way they sing."

And I would say to him—"That, son, is EASTER." The whole world was like that dreadful, frightening night until Jesus arose from the dead. Men were afraid of the darkness of death. This world seemed cold and chill, just as the night was to you a few hours ago. And if Jesus had never risen, the world would have remained in black darkness. But "The Sun of Righteousness hath arisen with healing in His wings. The world has had its Sunrise—It's Easter."

In our Sunday sermon, shut-in friends, we said much more about this wonderful dawning of brightness. But we must omit much of it. However, the conclusion of the matter was this:—Who are those people that derive great benefit from the healing rays of the sun—the physical sun which rises to bless us each morning? Surely it is those who EXPOSE themselves to the sun's rays. As I sit in my study, or work in my cellar, the sun does me no good whatsoever. But if I go out of doors, and bask in its healing rays, my body derives strength and healing.

How foolish of men to remain in the dark cellar of unbelief when they might receive healing for their immortal souls by exposing themselves before the Sun of Righteousness—the Son of God, for He hath said "Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." "Unto you which FEAR MY NAME hath the Sun of righteousness arisen with healing in His wings."

Little Molly was radiant over an addition to the family, and rushed out of the house to tell the news to a passing neighbor. "Oh, you don't know what we have got upstairs!" she cried.

"What is it?"

"It's a new baby brother!" And expectantly she watched the effect of her announcement.

"You don't say so? Is he going to stay?"

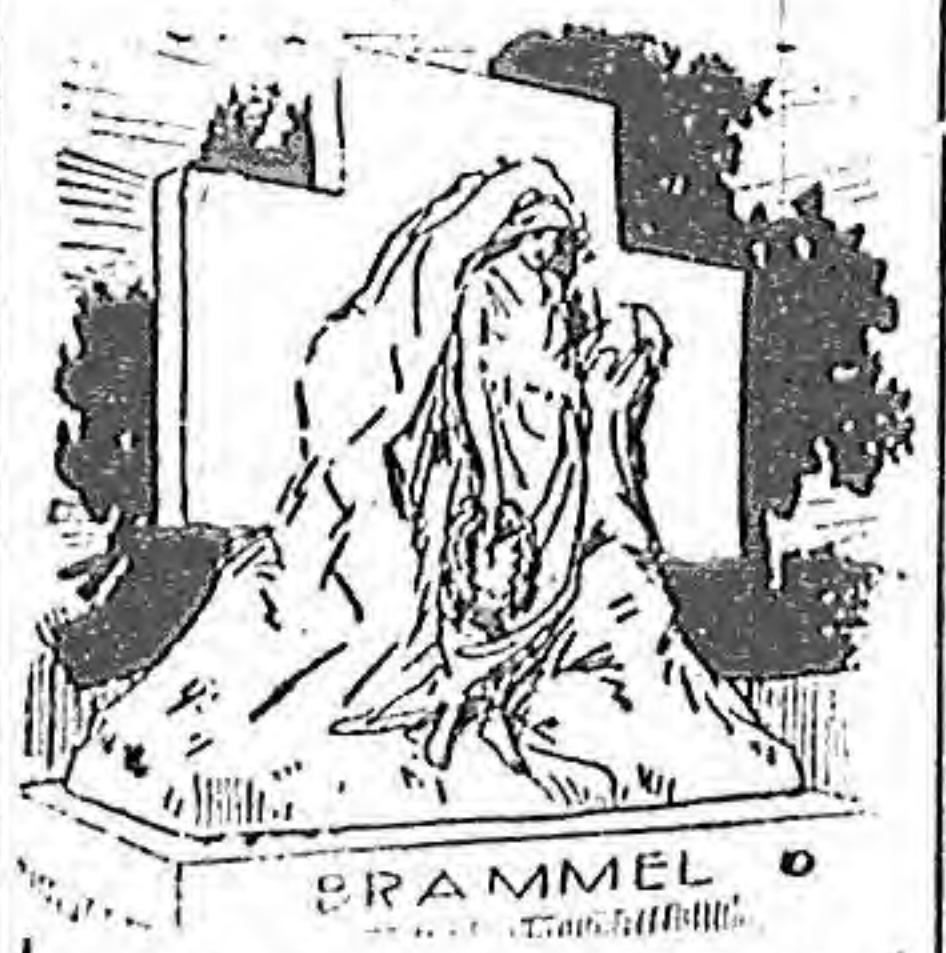

"I think so," said Molly thoughtfully, "he's got his things off."

The two commercial travellers were discussing the careless manner in which trunks and suitcases are handled by some railway companies.

"Well, I don't know; you see, they shipped the whole lot to Hong Kong."

MRS. A. HENDERSON DIES AT VANDORF

Mrs. Andrew L. Henderson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry A. Switzer, Vandorf, on Saturday morning after an extended illness. Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1856, Mrs. Henderson was in her 86th year. She came to Canada about 58 years ago. Her husband, who died in 1920, was for many years car inspector with the Grand Trunk Railway at Toronto.

Mrs. Henderson was a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church. She did a great deal of knitting for war purposes in recent years.

Surviving are four daughters, three sons, twenty-one grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren. One son, William, died from wounds received in the last war. The children are: Mrs. H. A. Switzer, Vandorf; Mrs. H. A. Switzer, S. L. Abbott, and Mrs. Fred J. Stokoe, all of Toronto; John, Toronto; Gordon, accountant with the Canadian Pacific Railway, Toronto, and Andrew, Saskatoon.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon with interment in Prospect Cemetery. Rev. G. W. Lynd, Downsview, was in charge of the service.

IN R.A.F. 4 YEARS, AURORA OFFICER RETURNS HOME

Attended Pickering College

After four years' service in the R.A.F., during which time he flew through the Greek campaign and the Battle of Crete, Flight Lieutenant C. D. (Bud) Richardson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Richardson of Aurora, has arrived home. He is now stationed at the R.A.F. aerial navigation school at Port Albert.

He spent three-and-a-half of the four years in the Middle East and took part in the Libyan campaigns. He is of the opinion that the Nazi pilots shot down over Egypt and Libya were among the best of the Luftwaffe. "They were highly experienced, young and very good," he said.

The young flight-lieutenant said that U.S.-made planes sent to the Middle East during the past year were of the highest type although the British had received some in the early part of the war that were weak in armaments and "had other shortcomings." He said that because of the different systems of maintenance and other factors, there was a prejudice against U.S. planes in the first year of the war. He listed the Tomahawks, Martins, Marylands and Liberators as among "the best planes made now."

He left Pickering College and went to England to join the R.A.F. At the outbreak of war he received a commission and was posted to the Middle East at Aden. He returned to Canada partly by air.

I said, "I stood it just so long and then threatened to hit him with the cue if he didn't behave himself. He didn't stop, so I picked up the cue, and I can't say if I hit him or missed him, but he made a charge at me and knocked me over the stove with him on top of me. Mr. Jarvis came over and took hold of him. I had three ribs broken, and was in York County hospital for two weeks. The same thing has been going on for quite a while."

"Why does he do it?" asked Crown Attorney Mathews.

"Just fun for him, I guess," replied Mr. Brockelbank.

Dr. G. E. Case testified that he attended the accused at Jarvis' home at 6:30 a.m. March 24 and found three ribs broken. "He lives alone and has no one to look after him so I took him to the hospital," stated the doctor. "There was quite a reaction from the injury. He had a temperature of 104 and was threatened with pneumonia. His hospital and doctor bills would amount to between $50 and $60."

"There were three or four sitting around and I saw Mr. Brockelbank take a stick and say, 'If you don't leave me alone and stop tormenting me I'll hit you with this stick,'" stated Mr. Jarvis. "I turned my back for a second and heard an awful noise. Brockelbank was on the floor and Vaughan was on top of him. I've told Vaughan time after time to stay out because he bothers this man all the time. Some others do too. They poke him and sometimes get bottles of pop and shake them, and it flies all over his head."

"A lot of things he said aren't right," said accused. "There were three or four of us in there tormenting him a bit, and he hit me with the cue. I grabbed at him to take the cue and fell over on top of him. Jarvis never threw me out. I went out."

"Anyone who assaults another is liable to a maximum prison term of three years," warned His Worship. "Any boy nineteen years of age who enjoys teasing a man his age ought to be ashamed of himself. You have got to the age now when you should have some sense. As far as the civil end of this case is concerned, it can be collected at another court. I am going to make the fine $5 because the costs are $20.50. If you come back here again we'll make it both jail and fine."

Sylvester Tobin, aged 27, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was fined $1 and $2.75 costs or 15 days. He paid the fine.

"On Sunday night, April 5, I received a call from Mr. Mitchell and found the accused man in his barn," testified Constable Ronald Watt. "He had gone into the barn without the permission of Mr. Mitchell. It disturbed his wife at the time. They had seen this man wandering on their property and couldn't see where he had gone. Later they found him in the barn covered with hay."

The accused admitted being convicted before Magistrate Keith on a similar charge and spending a week in the Don Jail.

"Why does a young man twenty-seven need to be wandering around?" asked Magistrate McIlven.

"I guess there's plenty of work," replied accused.

"Yes, there is plenty of work," agreed His Worship. "You've been chased by the officers in North Gwillimbury and warned several times."

"I was looking for work at the time. I worked up at Bradford two weeks ago. I was born in New Brunswick and have had jobs down around London and Chatham. I was registered in Brampton."

A sixteen-year-old girl of North Gwillimbury pleaded guilty to a charge of giving false information and was remanded for sentence until the age of eighteen on payment of $12.75 costs.

"On March 16, from information received from Dr. Beattie I questioned the accused at her home," testified Constable William Hill. "When I went in the house she was lying on a couch and stated her back had been hurt tussling with a man. There were tooth marks on her hands. She told me that about ten o'clock in the morning this man had rushed in, grabbed her and said he was going to get her. She finally picked up a chair threw it at him and missed him, some of the pieces of the chair going through the storm window. I asked her for a description of the man and she said he was middle-aged, was wearing a dark brown overcoat and a grey fedora pulled over one eye, and an orange scarf. She said her clothes were torn in the scuffle. After making several inquiries I was unable to locate this man. The next day Constable Morton and I went back and she repeated the same story. We both spent three days looking for this man. The second day I rather doubted her story. On March 22nd Constable Morton and I again questioned her and she admitted there hadn't been a man and said her story wasn't correct. She said she may have hit her own hand and may have thrown pieces of the chair through the window. She said she had been troubled with her nerves and whether they had got the best of her or not she didn't know."

"I noticed she had some kind of a spell caused from her nerves,"

RECEIVES WORD FROM SOLDIER FRIEND IN ENGLAND

The following letter has been received by Grant Blight from his friend, Cpl. W. Reid, overseas. Cpl. Reid was formerly on the staff of the local military camp. B-83821 Cpl. W. Reid, 2nd H.A.A. Regt. Section R.C.A.S.C., Canadian Army Overseas, March 3, 1942.

Dear Grant,—
In the barrack room discussions rise
On multitudes of topics,
For instance if the Kiwi flies
In Arctic or the Tropics.

And whether certain N.O.O.'s
Are mild or overbearing,
And if its what, or who, one
Knows
Decides the rank he's wearing.

An argument gets rather hot,
Between two guys, who figure
That if they shout an awful lot
Their "line" goes over bigger.

The fellow from Alberta claims
His Western gal is sweeter
The Blue-nose calls him awful names,
And swears that his can beat her.

The staff-car driver boils with rage
When someones calls him
"Bunny,"
Our youngest soldier acts his age
If designated "Sonny."

One evening in the recent past,
'Twas argued by the hour,
Could a race-horse run a mile,
As fast
As a car with floating power?

Each one of us has theories,
And in these conversations,
We settle with the greatest ease
All problems of the nations.

But still the world gropes on
In doubt,
Unheeding our deductions,
So we'll debate until "lights out"
Then leave it to the ructions.

This so-called poem was composed by yours truly Bill Reid after listening to some of the blather that goes on in the huts in the evenings. I bet you never thought I would sink so low as to write poetry, but that's what the war has done to me already.

I wrote to you last on Feb. 18, while I was on seven days' leave, and I really had a glorious time. The thing I miss is the feeds I used to get from your mother and when I went home at weekends. The dinner that you and your dad cooked for me was a dilly too. Mind you I had some real good cooking while on leave here too, but absolutely everything is rationed, and it makes me realize, more than ever before, how well off we were in Canada.

I believe I told you that my brother Bert is going back to Canada shortly. He has been here more than two years and his health is not quite up to the mark, besides, he has a family of four children, so I guess its about time he went back.

I have had several good visits with him and he is only a few miles from me, so I expect to see him again before he leaves. I haven't seen my cousin Glen from Vancouver in the RCAF, but he is here somewhere. Have you heard from Gerald lately?

I hope that the whole family is in the best of health and spirits, and also that I hear from you again soon. In the meantime, all the best and "cheerio".
Your sincere friend,
BILL.

CARL STOUFFER VISITS TOWN

EUCHRES REALIZE $5 FOR SOLDIERS' COMFORTS

Mrs. Fred Boyd brought to our office $5 for the Soldiers' Comforts. This amount was subscribed by a ladies' euchre club of town.

stated the girl's father. "I was away that day."
"Is this the first time she has had hallucinations about men?" asked Crown Attorney Mathews. "Yes," replied the witness. Frank Richardson of Toronto, charged by Pte. W. H. Reynolds of the Newmarket Military Camp with careless driving, was fined $10 including costs.

The complainant testified that he had been in an accident which Chief Sloss had investigated and had left his car parked beside the lamp post at the corner of Eagle and D'Arcy Streets and was waiting for a tow truck when the accused came from the south and ran into it.

"I wasn't familiar with the road and was coasting around the corner when my car started to skid," testified accused. "The road was real glassy and covered with snow. It was an unavoidable accident." Charged with speeding by Constable Ferguson, James Taylor of Barrie was fined $5 and costs; Ernest Ralston, Camp Borden, $15 and costs; Harold Oldham, Toronto, $8 and costs. For having no flares, Augustine Cuttara, Toronto, paid $5 and costs.

TRINITY CHURCH W.A.

Trinity W.A. was held on Thursday last with the President, Mrs. W. Brooks, in the chair. The Devotional Service was led by Mrs. F. Bothwell, reading from the 20th Chapter of St. John. Easter is the triumphant Holy Day. Prayer was offered by Mrs. E. Western.

Mrs. G. E. Case introduced the speakers, Mrs. G. W. Williams and Mrs. J. D. Wilcox of Aurora. Mrs. Wilcox told us the songs of the Habitant lived in the heart and memory of the people, one Gaspe fisherman singing 310 songs. The rhythm and melody are very important. The speaker sang a number of songs unaccompanied. Mrs. G. W. Williams told us of the country, people, art and literature. Both speakers were thoroughly conversant with their subject. Lovely French Canadian handicraft was shown: homespun blanket from Murray Bay, figures from carved wood, rugs, beautiful pictorial scenes made with hooked rags, etc. Mrs. S. King thanked the speakers for the enjoyable afternoon. Miss Helen Epworth played a lovely piano solo.

Lunch was served, Mrs. L. P. Cane, Mrs. P. Tod and Mrs. F. Chantler pouring tea at a beautifully decorated tea table.

CLEAR TELEPHONE LINES FOR All-out production

BRENS... BROWNING'S
LEE-ENFIELDS... STEN SUB-MACHINE GUNS
BOYS ANTI-TANK RIFLES

When war broke, Canada had no small-arms industry. Today she is making all these modern weapons for herself and her allies. Her Bren plant, producing several thousand guns a month, ranks as one of the largest small-arms factories in the world.

The telephone is a day-and-night necessity to the men who created this industry and now must set even new production records, month after month. Their calls must go through. Lines must be available to handle them promptly.

And they can be, provided everyone is efficient and unselfish in his use of existing telephone facilities. Your telephone is part of an extensive wartime communications system. Are you observing "Wartime Telephone Tactics"?

H. McCLELLAND, Manager

WARTIME TELEPHONE TACTICS

1. BE SURE you have the right number... consult the directory.
2. SPEAK distinctly, directly into the mouthpiece.
3. BE BRIEF. Clear your line for the next call.
4. ANSWER promptly when the bell rings.
5. USE OFF-PEAK hours for Long Distance calls: before 9.30 a.m., 1-2 p.m., 5-7 p.m., after 9 p.m.

These things may look trifling, but on 6,500,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

There was a splendid attendance at all the services, including the children's service in the afternoon, at St. Paul's Church on Easter Day. The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, those in the altar being white stocks and calla lilies. The choir sang the anthem "This Is the Day Which the Lord Hath Made," during the offertory.

Today the W.A. are holding their annual Spring Tea, and sale of home-baking, while to-morrow they are having their monthly devotional and business meeting including colored slides on the Study Book. They have asked the members of the sister branches in nearby parishes to come and enjoy them too, and the accompanying lecture.

Last Thursday at the Dorcas meeting Mrs. Johnson, wife of the Rector, read a paper on the Jews which was greatly appreciated by all present.

Next Tuesday, April 14, the Men's Club, assisted by the Parochial Guild, are holding a social evening in the Parish Hall, while rehearsals of the concert to be given later in the month in the Town Hall, under the direction of Mrs. N. A. Belugin, are growing more interesting every week. The Hungarian dance especially gets more intriguing as the dancers become more efficient.

Dear Sirs:

Newmarket Lions Club.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the cigs. I received this afternoon. They always come in handy.

There isn't much happening these days to us, but I hope there will be soon. Saw the King today as he was visiting near our lines. It was a thrill when you haven't seen him before.

You never saw such a climate. One day it is snowing and the next warm enough to go swimming. No wonder we are having one cold after another.

I read in the town papers about the good work you are doing, and I think you should be congratulated. I expect to go on seven days leave in a couple of weeks, but I don't think I will go far.

Well I guess I had better sign off for now. Thanking you again for everything, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
R. Terry.

March 15, 1942.

Just received a parcel of three hundred Sweet Caporal cigarettes from your club, and sure are highly appreciated. A real good gift and all in fine shape, and I would like to take the opportunity to thank you all for them, and I'm sure whoever receives a package like I did will be as thankful to you all as I am myself.

The weather here is just like June. Very nice, but trying to rain a bit this afternoon, and I will thank you all a million, and say cheerio for now. From

The regular monthly meeting of the British-Israel World Federation will be held on Tuesday, April 21, instead of Sunday as it usually is, and it will be held in the Town Hall.

Those who listen to the weekly broadcasts over CFRB at 1.15 every Sunday, will be glad of this opportunity to hear Rev. E. J. Springett in person. So make a note of the time and place: Tuesday evening, April 21, in the Town Hall.

Pot Pourri . . .

By Golden Glow

Did you ever hear so many bird notes as fill the air every morning these early days of spring? And you nearly stand on your head trying to see where they are, up in the top of the tree! You hear the chorus of robing before daybreak, sometimes in your tree, sometimes in your neighbor's. Then one after another you hear the different birds wake up and "salute the morn," and the starlings imitate everyone!

Presently we'll have the oriole back and we'll know summer isn't far off, and then, quite likely, we'll hear the bird that shouts "Peter, Peter," all day long! The spring bulbs are doing their best to flower for us, and the lovely English violets in my south border will be out in another week, or less. I have seen some lovely snowdrops this year, the best I've ever seen. Such long, slender stalks and large bells. The deep orange-yellow crocus are out and look so cheery and bright, and the bleeding-heart roots are shooting up their peculiar reddish sprouts. We have had quite a variety of weather, and over the weekend folks all over town had bonfires. Maybe that cedar hedge fire on Good Friday was caused by one of them. I haven't heard, but it seems too bad to have such a beautiful old-time cedar hedge as that go up in smoke.

Another sign of spring is the way the frost is coming out of the roads. The ton-trucks and old "Dobbin" are busy, I hear. I hear there is a terrific old hole (or was) on Strigley St. on the way to camp, and any day I expect to have our old friend "Tom" come round selling socks (I always used to think that word was suckers till I was corrected, so don't any of you think I am spelling it wrongly).

Already we have had maple syrup, and yes, horse-radish, and if they aren't sure signs of spring then what are you looking for? Every little streamlet has become a creek, every creek a good-sized river, and every river a flood! The rosy stalks of the wild hazel in the swamps tell us it's spring. We hear the wild geese away up, higher than the airplanes. We like to imagine they are the "whistling swans" that are getting so scarce. Isn't it nice to know that not all of them now light on the Niagara River above the Falls? They go to sleep at night with their head tucked under their wing, not realizing their danger as the current carries them swiftly and silently to their doom, for they are over the Falls before they are aware of their danger! The mounties, and the guards, and the police do all in their power to "shoo" them away, but they persist in returning in spite of all that can be done to warn them.

However, as I started out to say, Jack Miner has persuaded a good many to visit his "sanctuary" at Kingsville, and has saved thousands who break their trip on their way to their nesting places away in the far north, to stay in the safety and comfort provided for them at Jack Miner's, while they rest and prepare for the second half of their journey. It is a sight I have often heard about but have never seen. However, if you want anything bad enough, long enough, I have heard that in the end you usually get it, so maybe some day, when the world settles down to normal living again, I may get my wish.

I think I'll start wishing every night on the first star I see: "Star light, star bright, the first star I have seen to-night; I wish it may, I wish it might come true the wish I wish to-night!"

Now what was that other old-timer connected with the stars. I've never thought of it for so long that I probably will get it wrong; if so, don't be afraid to correct me if you think it important enough. Wasn't it like this? You go on; and count 13 stars every night for seven consecutive nights. If it's cloudy you have to start all over again from the first, and when you have counted 13 stars for seven consecutive nights, you bring your eyes back to earth and the first boy you see will be "The One!"

Oh! aren't girls the funniest things! They used to count the buttons on their dress and on their cute little button boots: "Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief, doctor, lawyer, merchant chief." Oh, do you remember the funny little button boots we used to wear with a silk tassel on the front? We used to have "button-hooks" in those days to do up the buttons on our boots, and if we couldn't locate it, we'd use a hair-pin! And the tiny little button-hooks with the mother-of-pearl handle we used to carry with us to the ball, to do up the buttons on our long gloves (only we didn't usually have to do the buttoning ourselves, if you recall what a privilege it was supposed to be!)

Well, button boots, with their button-hooks, 14-button gloves with their dainty little button-hook are things of the past. Just as the "Mikado" is now a sort of memory. They all belonged to a past that nobody stops to recall any more. Speaking of the Mikado, I wonder did anybody really mean we'd change the name. I don't see why we should for it was a "take-off" on Japan, and they were hopping mad about it when it was composed, and put on the stage by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Well, what a junkie I've made of this! It is just how I feel anyhow, so why worry! You don't have to read it! You know, I won't be offended if you don't. It's like the radio, if you don't want a certain program just turn the dial and get another program. If you don't like this, just turn over the page and get something else. I wouldn't blame if you did!

YOU MAY NEVER LOOK THROUGH A BOMBSIGHT . . .

Keen, youthful eyes are a pre-requisite for RCAF gunners and pilots. Your eyes may be too old for that job, yet there is no reason why you should not enjoy perfect vision. The better you see, the better you work.

The moment you feel the slightest discomfort from your eyes or notice a dimming of your vision, realize that Nature is warning you.

Don't delay getting expert advice. Arrange for an eye examination at once. Think of how much your life's work and your happiness depends upon the condition of your eyesight.

"That's agreeable to me," said Mr. Lundy. "I'll arrange a meeting."

"Dixon's have a 'xed assessment," Mr. Mathews informed the council. Someone else stated that the Dixon assessment had been carried on at the same figure after expiration of the fixed assessment, and it was agreed that Dixon's should be invited to any discussion of the subject between the town and the industries.

"Perhaps the industries will agree to a higher assessment for education and relief," said Mr. Vale. "That will save friction."

"Why should there be friction?" asked Dr. Dales. "The act provides that fixed assessments shall not apply for education and relief. Suppose a fixed assessment is for $25,000 and full assessment is $100,000. The fixed assessment applies for the general rate."

"Which is less than half of the whole," said Mr. Mathews.

"And $100,000 for education and relief," continued Dr. Dales.

GREENSHIRTS CAPTURE INTERMEDIATE "A" CROWN

the Sutton crew got in a blue funk and the airforce boys secured their second goal on a shot through a maze of players. The "ginger" had no chance on the play at all. In short order the score was knotted and it looked mighty like good-bye for the villagers. Then came Shepstone and McComb's great play.

To pick any stars in the new champs would be unfair. The whole group from goal out fitted into a well balanced machine, and coach Cec. Carpenter handled the boys ably. Sutton have had a big year. Their supporters have been legions from all sections of the county, and we hope that next season will see the same group together defending the title.

News and Views of People and Things by Isabel Inglis Colville

The April meeting of the Pine Orchard Women's Institute is the meeting appointed for the election of officers. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Starr, and it is most earnestly requested that every member will feel her personal responsibility in this matter. The Temperance committee is in charge, Mrs. Ewart, convenor. The roll call will be "A Temperance Quotations from the Bible" and there will be a report on Temperance activities.

Mr. Cockburn, agricultural representative for the district, addressed the Bogartown Community Club on the evening of March 4. He spoke on "Stem Rust" in certain types of grain, and the barberry bush menace. Also he showed some very beautiful slides of various lovely spots in York County. His talk was thoroughly enjoyed and found most profitable. Mrs. Albert Ridley read a very interesting edition of the Bogartown Chronicle, so much so that Mr. Cockburn accused the city papers of plagiarizing. During the evening the Johnson orchestra entertained with some enjoyable selections and Mr. Elmer Johnson sang.

Miss Sadie McQueen has gone to her home in Stayner for the Easter holidays.

The last pot luck dinner and quilting for this season, took place at the home of Mrs. Fred Reid on Wednesday of last week, and two very nice quilts was the result. Work went on in the morning and then dinner was served. There is always a certain element of quite delightful uncertainty in these pot luck meals, but somehow they touch the spot. At this particular meal they served creamed macaroni, buttered peas, baked beans, cabbage salad and bread and butter, followed by pineapple cream and pie. Everyone went back to their work refreshed, and while some quilted the regular Willing Workers meeting went on. Business was discussed and the scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Fred Reid and Mrs. G. Wood led in prayer. The mita boxes are to be brought to the next meeting.

Four quilts were donated by individual members to be sent in the mission bales in October. It was pleasant to have Mrs. Albert Lloyd of Newmarket, a former very active member, present at the meeting.

Miss Joyce VanLoven spent Good Friday in Toronto at a Nazarene Church Conference.

Miss Dora McClure of Toronto, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Gordon McClure.

Mrs. Alan Forbes of Toronto is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toole during the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson of Aurora took tea on Good Friday with Mrs. Gordon McClure.

The presentation to Mr. and Mrs. H. Ostley, of a beautiful lamp by their friends and neighbors, was a fitting mark of the esteem in which they were held, and of regret at their departure from the community. The presentation made by Mrs. G. F. Williams and Mrs. Ewart marked the end of a sojourn of 39 years at Bogartown.

Remember Institutions, that May 22 is the district annual. It will be held in Newmarket and each member will provide her own lunch.

Mrs. G. McClure, Mrs. Tucker and Master Murray McClure were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Richardson on the 3rd, on Sunday evening.

Miss Irene Harper spent the Easter weekend with friends at Goodwood.

Pte. Philip Rushbrooke of Kingston is visiting in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Albert Ridley is attending the Ontario Educational Association convention being held in Toronto this week. While in the city she is the guest of Mrs. West.

When days of sunshine, warm and bright, bring lots of hidden things to light, we feel that right away we must begin a war on dirt and dust. You gaze at stacks of music, high, and wonder with a little sigh just when you'll have the time to meet the task of dusting every sheet. Your books too, stare you in the face and say, "It's really a disgrace, that all our tops should dusty be, and that they are in plain to see."

Now books, I hesitate to do, because before I'm half way through, I see something I just MUST read, and then, alas, I'm lost indeed, for it is lovely to renew your friendship with some books you know, and though you knew to pause was wrong, you felt ten minutes wasn't long, but soon you'd find ten minutes, plus, would get you in a dreadful fuss. And so each book you'd shut right too, nor even glance the contents through. And in my borders, from last year, I see the tops of iris, sere, and long old stalks of flocks, are there, and give me dreary stare for stare. In fact, so many things I see that that seem to lie in wait for me. I sometimes wonder if the spring is really such a lovely thing, this time of which all poets rave, and which in winter storms, we crave. But when I see the birds once more returning to their homes of yore, hear too, the tractors humming sound and hear the stir of life around, I vouch for what the poets say, and think, "what's lovelier than May?"

WORK ON FARMS EARLIER THAN FOR 20 YEARS

Cultivating in South York County Districts Prepare for Planting

York County farmers started Monday to work their lands, the earliest they have been able to start in more than twenty years. The Woodbridge and Agincourt districts led the rest of the county and it was expected it would be another two weeks before farmers in the northern townships would be on the land.

"The land was in good shape," said Roy Barker, Woodbridge, who used a tractor to cultivate and harrow in readiness to sow oats. "It was very good, quite friable. Roy Livingston and his son, Bert, were out with tractor and horses getting the land ready for oats and barley. There were others out in the district too. It was our first day—no one near here was out last week."

W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for York County, made an inspection tour Monday of the southern areas, and reported the land dry and in apparently good condition. "It's possible to get out too early and cause the water to puddle as it runs together. Later it bakes the land, particularly in clay districts. But the land yesterday seemed to be in friable condition, quite crumbly."

In the Agincourt district Stanley Watson used a tractor in harrowing his land. Other farmers in the district were also out using both tractors and horses.

"Didn't you hear the siren?" asked the A.R.P. warden, advising an old countryman to take cover. With enemy planes droning overhead, the man was still strolling about the streets.

"Yes, I heard 'un," said the old man, "but that bairn's nothing to do with me. I lives at —," giving the name of his village, five miles away.

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

Canadian Red Cross Society —

King Township Branch News
Next month the Red Cross campaign for funds will be held. Plans are being made by the local branch for the canvass of the district. At the time of writing, word has not been received as to what the King Township branch quota will be. In view of the coming campaign it is of interest to consider some of the demands made on the Red Cross. One work of the society which requires considerable funds is not usually realized by the general public, that is the tremendous cost to the Canadian Red Cross in supplying Prisoner of War Food Parcels.

In January 1941, at the request of the British Red Cross after the dreadful bomb raids, the shipment of 10,000 food parcels per week was inaugurated by the Canadian Red Cross. This number was increased during 1941, including shipments for the Australian and New Zealand Red Cross societies. For some time now, 40,000 food parcels have been shipped from Canada each week. Each parcel costs approximately $2.50. Due to the food shortage in Britain and difficulties in transportation, the Canadian Red Cross has again been asked to increase its shipments, to 80,000 parcels per week. If facilities and financing can be arranged. This is one of the most urgent financial problems.

The Canadian Red Cross is the ONLY connecting link between us and our prisoners-of-war. It is only through the Canadian Red Cross Society's Inquiry Bureau and its facilities for international investigation that information can be obtained regarding missing men in our Canadian forces.

In view of the above one can realize why it is necessary for the Red Cross to ask for 50% more this year than what was raised in 1940. We have no doubt that King Township will exceed its objective.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Glass were tendered a chivalry party at their home last week.

Mrs. G. H. Stone received word recently that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Stone of Toronto, had passed away. A nephew, Mr. Robt. Powell was also recently buried.

Mrs. H. H. Whitney and daughter Frances of Southampton spent Easter holidays with their mother Mrs. Stone Sr.

It was with a sense of pride we noted that the spring edition of "The Quill", the Aurora high school students' publication, was dedicated to the memory of Sgt. Pilot George Davis, killed on active service Feb. 11. A native of King, and an ex-student of A.H.S., his was the first casualty in these circles.

Miss Jennie Kerswill, senior of the X-ray department of Victoria Hospital, London, Ont., is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilles Kerswill.

Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Larkin of Eaton Hall Farm entertained at a musicale recently, the proceeds toward Eaton War Auxiliary. Some very fine talent was enjoyed by a large gathering.

R. L. Burton, son of Rev. W. J. Burton of Kettleby, and Wm. Rogan of Schomberg have received "wings," the latter at Moncton, B.C., RCAF school.

Seventy-car freight train is unusual and is reported having passed along this railway line.

Mrs. Kelso Crossley is recovering from a surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Mäle of Toronto spent the weekend at Mr. Thomas Anderson's.

Bob Rumble, RCAF, spent the weekend at his home at Temperanceville.

Mr. Charles Cohen will hold a farm sale on April 15.

$25.50 was raised from an auction sale of stock, implements, etc., and hay on farm of Arwood Harman, Temperanceville. C. E. Walkington auctioneer. The accredited blood test herd of cattle brought good prices and buyers from many sections of the country.

The Goodwill farm, Maple, bought ten herd. James Gibson, Caledonia, took two heifers each at $92.50. This herd was sired from Gibson's. A. H. Gibney of Holt purchased a young bull for $50. Cows went as high as $175. A cow and calf $212.50. A registered mare went to Geo. S. Henry for $100. A yearling colt brought $52. A registered sow $60 and sow and pigs $70. The demand for hay was low and potatoes realized $1.35 a bag. The 50-year-old Harman democrat sold for $10, and the buggy for $14. Mr. Harman has rented the farm to Jim Gillham.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jennings visited Mrs. J. Jennings of Temperanceville on Sunday.

Nobleton W.I. will sponsor an alkali-selter entertainment in the community hall on Friday, April 17. Three valuable draws will be made, all local donations; a registered Jersey heifer from Dr. Charlton; Wm. Roger, silver casserole from J. D. Cameron, and a 32-piece breakfast set from W. C. Harris. All proceeds will go to the King Township Red Cross.

King hockey team covered itself with glory at Ravina Rink on Mar. 31 in a 6-2 final game over sturdy Plattsville, capturing the Ontario Rural Hockey Association Intermediate "A" championship. They earned photo space and snappy headlines in Toronto newspapers. They won the full admiration from a host of township followers. Outplaying their opponents all the way the King aggregation had little trouble winning the total-goal series 9-4. By the time this column is read, the second series with Milton will have been played at Ravina April 7. The spirit of co-ordination in the team is emphasized when we say they only practice when they play games, having no rink of their own except the far-distant Bolton rink. Red Horner had plenty of compliments to tell them when he learned this fact. Years ago the King City soccer team won distinction on similar procedure. King athletes always do an all-out effort wherever they compete.

Schomberg Women's Institute branch made $60 from a Purina banquet and demonstration sponsored by Cecil Maynard in the hall March 31.

Laskay enchire will be held on April 10.

ROCHE'S POINT

The congregations of Keswick United Church and Christ Church, Anglican, held united services on Holy Thursday and Good Friday evenings of last week. Both services were well attended. The Rev. A. J. Forte spoke on Thursday evening, his theme being, "The Cross," based on John 12, 32; "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me."

Rev. Gordon Lapp gave a very timely message on Good Friday evening. Brief character sketches were given of the principals in the Crucifixion Drama. At Christ Church, Holland Landing, and at St. James', Sharon, on Easter Day, the services were unusually well attended. There was a record number at all three points.

There was a buoyant note of hope for a weary world at war in the joyous Easter hymns, and in the beauty of the plants and Spring-time flowers in the chancels. The incumbent spoke on the meaning of St. Paul's words, "That I may know Him and the Power of His resurrection and the Fellowship of His sufferings." The Easter message this year should be one of Christian hope, comfort and encouragement, because of Christian confidence in the power of God, as evidence in the resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord and Saviour.

Christ Church, Roche's Point, was crowded with visitors at the 11 a.m. service. The Incumbent, in a very brief introduction to his sermon spoke of the untimely death of Lt. Graham M. Baker, R.C.N.V.R., who gloriously gave his life somewhere in the hell-fire of St. Nazaire early Saturday, March 28. The 26-year-old Toronto naval officer was in command of a motor torpedo boat, and he died while leading his men in the brilliantly successful assault on the Nazi-submarine and Naval base on the west coast of France.

Lt. Baker was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Baker, 135 Dunvegan Road, Toronto. He is believed to be the first Canadian to give his life in the daring service of the Commandos. Since childhood Lt. Baker has spent his summers here at Roche's Point, where his parents have their summer home. He was widely known in the community, and he is typical of the fine young Canadian manhood which has entered the lists against the Nazi hordes. He was fond of all outdoor sports, particularly sailing and hockey. He is the first casualty on the Roll of Honour of Members of Christ Church, and community, who are now serving in the forces of the king.

IN THE HARVEST FIELD . . .
AND ON THE BATTLEFIELD
MODERN EQUIPMENT WINS THE DAY

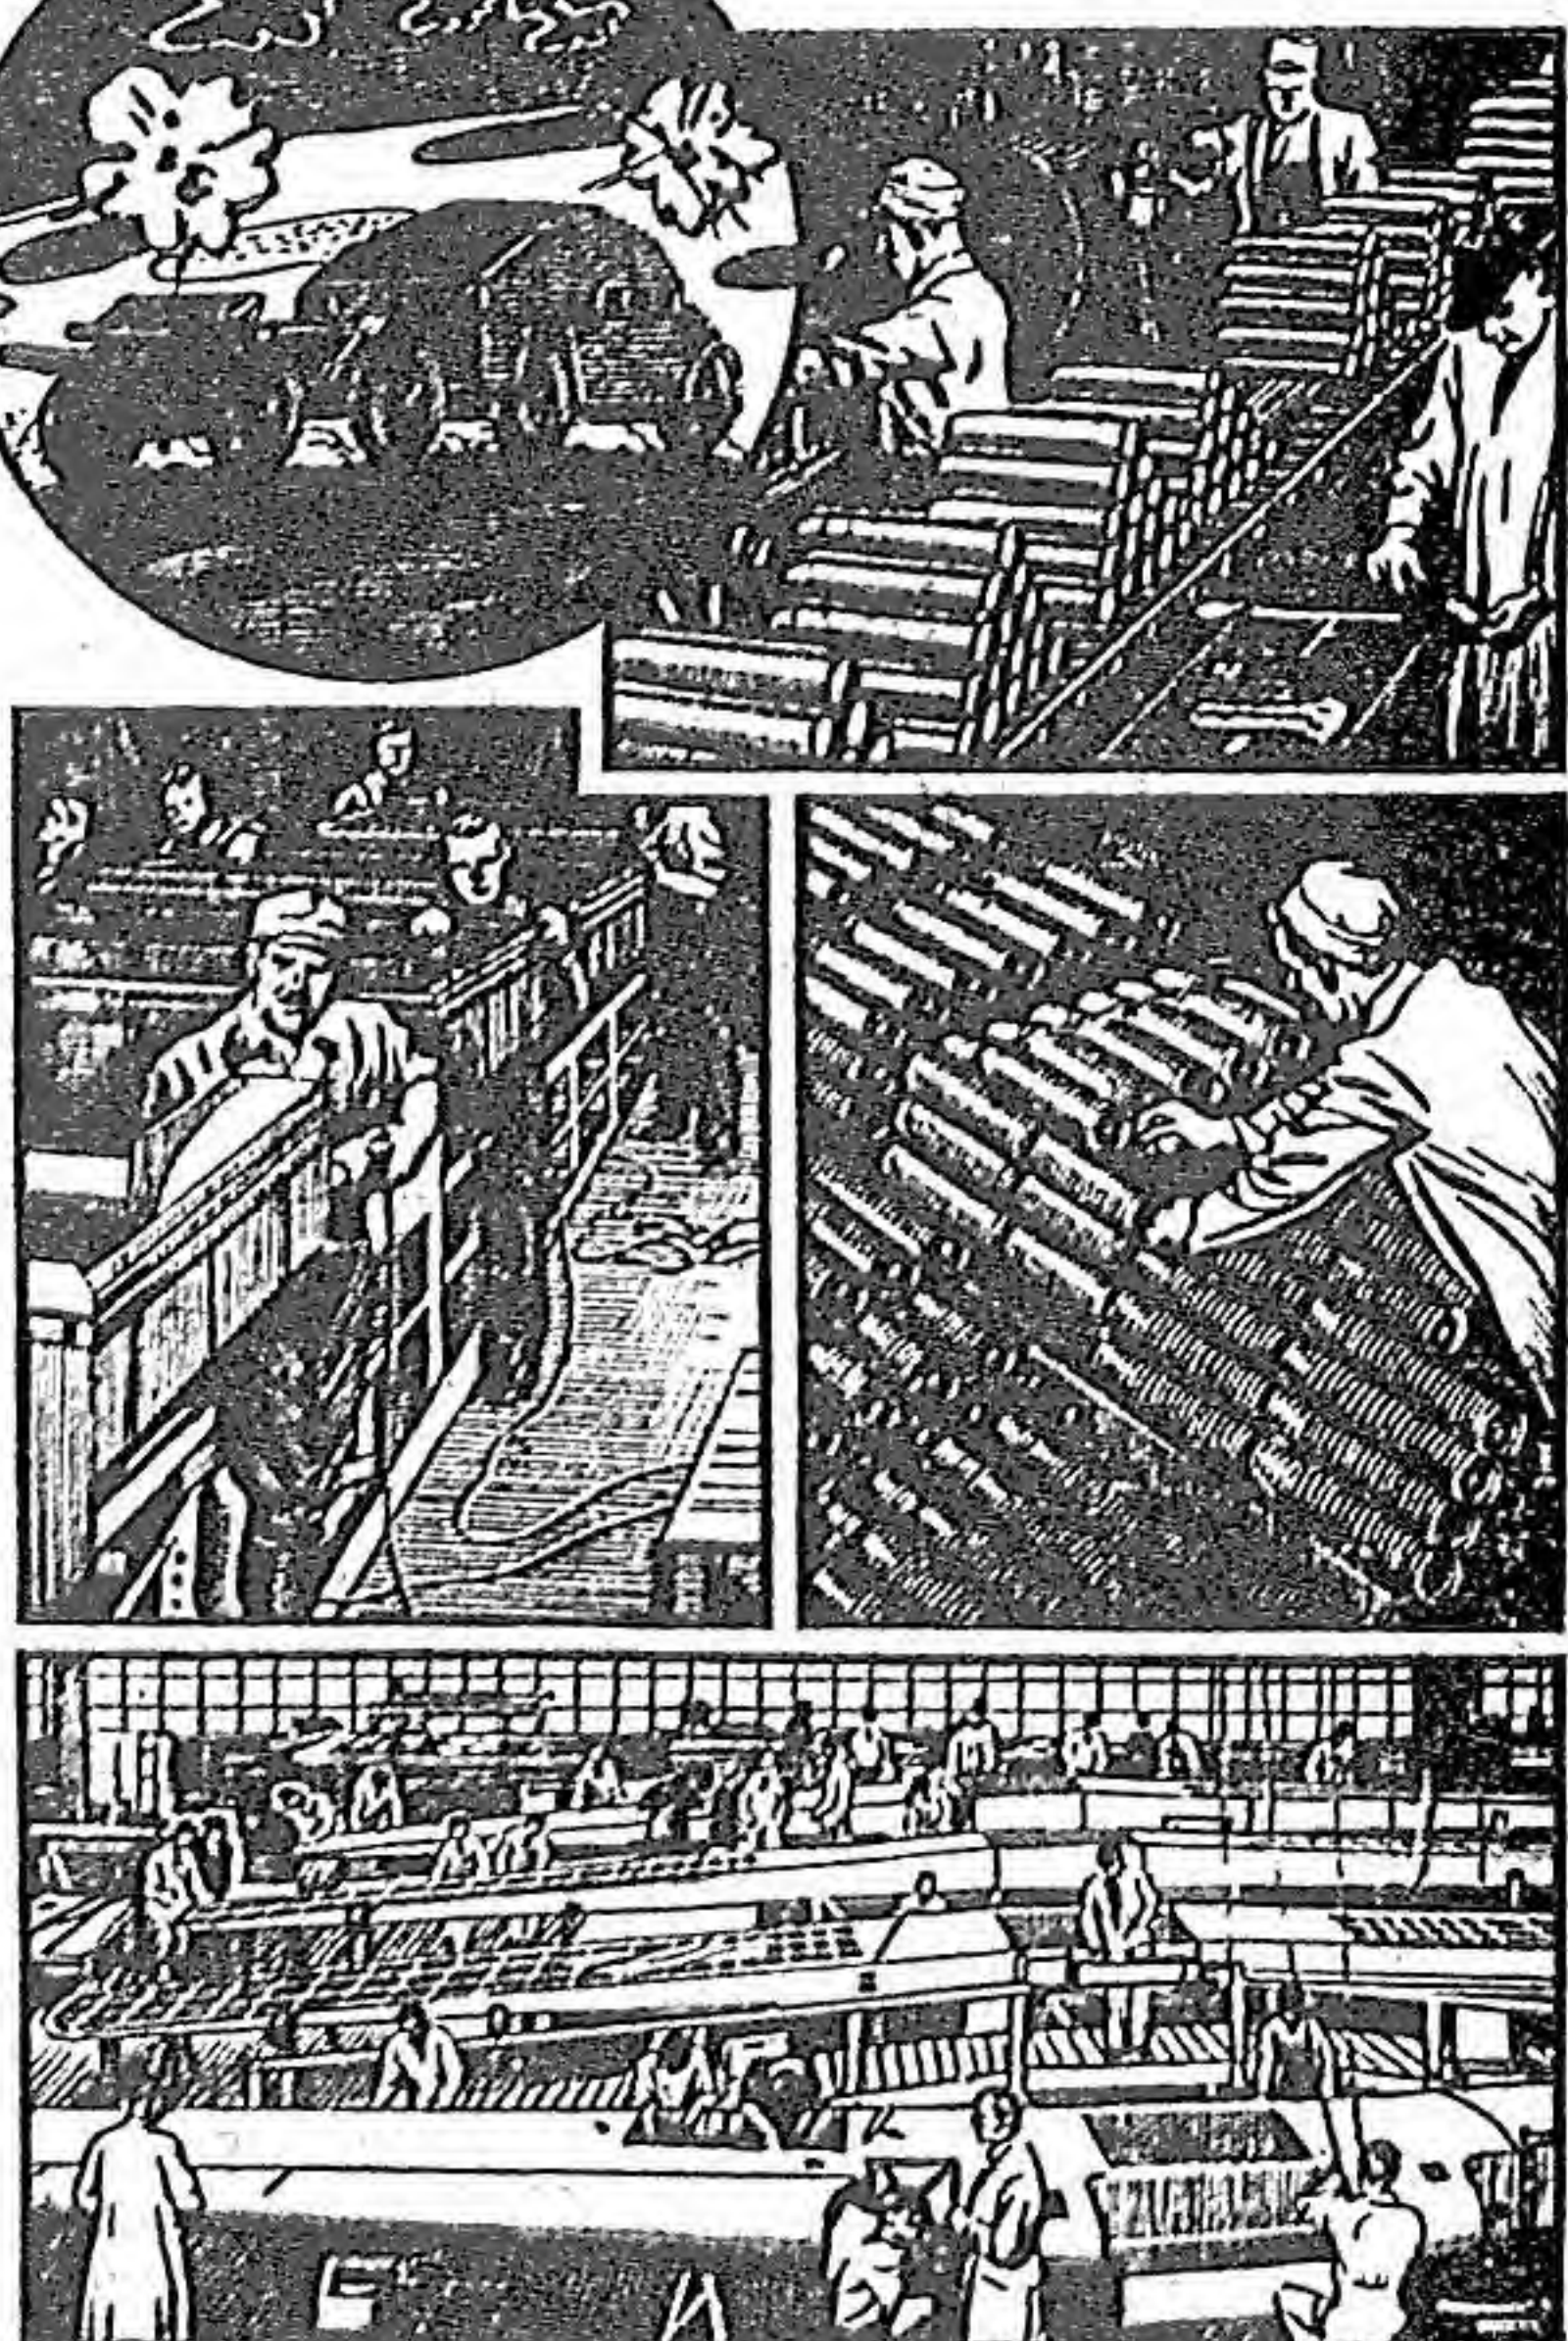

THAT the prodigious task of providing the foodstuffs for an Empire at war can be undertaken by Canadian agriculture with less man-power than ever before is due to the high degree of mechanization of the farm which had been reached before the outbreak of war.

Massey-Harris leadership in the developing and building of such labor-saving equipment for the farm is recognized throughout the world, and has resulted in an enviable reputation for this great Canadian Company wherever grain is grown.

It is but natural, therefore, that a Company with such great resources in plant, skill and experience should be chosen for the production of various munitions of war. Several types of shell, aircraft wings and parts, and equipment for military transports are being turned out with the skill and efficiency which have made the name Massey-Harris famed throughout the years for products of highest quality.

Massey-Harris is proud of its part in providing the implements so essential in modern farming under war conditions and in furnishing munitions and equipment so vital to the success of our fighting forces.

Take the FUL-O-PEP WAY To Succeed With Chicks!

It is far cheaper and more effective to avoid cannibalism than to stop it. When cannibalism starts the losses of good chicks mount fast—your profits fade. We all know that feather pulling and cannibalism in chicks is a nuisance, moreover it is apt to re-appear later as pick-outs in the laying flock with severe losses.

Experimental Stations have found that oats are far superior to any grain in preventing feather pulling.

There's your cue. Start your chicks on Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter this year for it contains lots of oatmeal. Rarely do Ful-O-Pep feeders have any trouble from cannibalism.

Aside from the anti-cannibalism factor, the oatmeal in Ful-O-Pep Mash creates better digestive conditions, grows better chickens, avoids slipped tendons and develops better bones. Chicks fed the Ful-O-Pep Mash the Ful-O-Pep Way grow more uniformly, feather evenly and develop into big, capable, profit-paying pullets.
